Oil futures at highest level in 4 years

Oil prices futures are trading at their highest level in four years with WTI over $70/bbl and Brent trading above $75/bbl.

“Commodity strategists at Goldman Sachs laid out the case for Brent crude oil hitting $80 a barrel by the end of this year. This is a great time to invest in undervalued conventional oil stocks or buy into oil plays” said John Jurasin, CEO of Radiant.

Representatives of Radiant played in the World Oilman’s Tennis Tournament Invitational in Houston, Texas to start the month off and will be finishing the month at the Louisiana Investment Conference. Radiant principles will be attending numerous industry functions as well as charitable causes such as Texas Boys Outdoors Golf & Fishing Tournament at the Big Easy Ranch.
